

AAOM Fall Meeting

Current Landscape of Artificial Intelligence in Oral Medicine: A Case Based Discussion

We invite you to partner with us for the Fall AAOM Meeting, “Current Landscape of Artificial Intelligence in Oral Medicine: A Case-Based Discussion,” taking place on October 16, 2026. This timely and innovative program will bring together oral medicine specialists, educators, researchers, and clinicians to better understand the rapidly evolving role of artificial intelligence (AI) in patient care, education, and research.

Through an engaging, case-based format, attendees will examine real-world applications of AI across oral medicine, including salivary gland disease, orofacial pain, mucosal disease, and oral potentially malignant disorders, while also addressing the ethical considerations and limitations of emerging technologies.

Why sponsor?

- Position your organization at the forefront of innovation in oral healthcare by supporting discussions on the emerging role of AI in clinical practice and education.
- Connect directly with a highly engaged audience of oral medicine specialists, educators, and decision-makers from academic and clinical settings nationwide.
- Demonstrate your commitment to advancing patient care and professional education through support of evidence-based, ethically responsible innovation.

Opportunities for sponsorship are limited. For additional information, sponsorship opportunities, and registration details, please visit www.dental.upenn.edu/ai-oral-medicine.
