Leadership

The Academy is run by leadership elected from our membership, who include Oral Medicine practitioners from all over the country and beyond.

AAOM's Board of Trustees sets the Academy's strategic directions and provides oversight to see that the organization's goals are met. Many Board members are also committee chairs who participate actively in the accomplishments of the Academy's programs.

The Executive Committee is charged with the general decision-making that's necessary to run the programs of the Academy on a day-to-day basis. The EC is responsible for implementing the Academy's strategic plan and for executing the will of the Board of Trustees.

The Academy is staffed by a team that specializes in member services, marketing, finances, and event management.
